Commerce is expanding and developing daily, making the demand for business, economics and finance professionals ever greater. The College of Economic and Management Sciences (CEMS) has developed its wide-range of short learning programmes (SLPs) to accommodate this demand.

These “short courses” incorporate new knowledge, making it available to students and business practitioners alike, so they can quickly adapt to the changes at hand.

Our SLPs are extensive and diverse, ideal for students who want to “make it” in the real world. Seasoned professionals, too, will find these courses invaluable in terms of furthering their knowledge and advancing their careers. Business owners, in turn, will enjoy our project and business management programmes; accountants will benefit from our courses in bookkeeping, payroll, auditing and taxation. Likewise, our Centre for Industrial and Organisational Psychology is an ideal resource if you’re interested in the workforce, client service excellence and industrial psychology.

We offer advanced courses to graduates – through Unisa’s SBL – which provide upskilling opportunities in areas such as advanced project management and executive development.

These are just a few examples. All our SLPs provide opportunities across the broad spectrum of commerce.

We are proud to present them to you. We hope they help in growing your knowledge and furthering your career.

Short Course in Customer Service Management (71641)

Duration: 3 months
Credits: 12
NQF Level: 6

Purpose: To introduce students to the complexities of rendering service on a one-to-one basis, as well as managing this function in a service provision organisation. The main areas that students focus on are the general principles of customer service, its advantages to an organisation, the steps involved in developing a service plan and the personal features of the excellent service provider. The aim is to develop the service delivery skills of individual students and to equip them for higher-level positions in the service divisions of organisations. The short course also lays the foundation for students to advance to the one-year programme in Customer Service Management. This short course serves as a credit for one of the six modules of the one-year programme.

Target group: People working in business, professional services, government and semi-government.

Admission requirements: Senior Certificate or an equivalent NQF level 4 qualification, or relevant practical experience, or 25 years or older.

Registration periods:
- First semester: 28 November – 25 January
- Second semester: depends on the Unisa second semester registration dates

For more information please visit www.unisa.ac.za/cbm

Module content:
- Module 1: Customer Service Management: SCCS01V - 12 credits

Short Course in Human Resource Hiring Practices (71900)

Duration: 3 months
Credits: 12
NQF Level: 6

Purpose: Employees play a vital role in the success of an organisation. Competent and efficient employees, however, are hard to find and it requires a skilled manager or employment expert to identify and appoint only the best applicants. The purpose of this course is therefore to equip HR practitioners, trade union officials and line managers with the skills to recruit, interview and select the most suitable applicants in a fair, professional and legally sound manner.

Target group: This course will equip anyone pursuing a career as a manager or in the field of human resource management with the skills to become a competent recruiter, employment manager and supervisor, an employment specialist in an employment agency or an HR consultant. Trade union representatives involved in the appointment of employees will also benefit greatly by this course. Opportunities exist for students to start their own employment services business.

Admission requirements: Senior Certificate or an equivalent of NQF level 4 (students who do not have a matric certificate will be admitted based on work experience).

Registration periods:
- First semester: 28 November – 25 January
- Second semester: depends on the Unisa second semester registration dates

For more information please visit www.unisa.ac.za/cbm

Module content:
- Module 1: Human Resource Hiring Practices: SMEP01L - 12 credits

Short Course in Public Relations (71897)

Duration: 3 months
Credits: 12
NQF Level: 6

Purpose: The field of public relations involves a variety of programmes designed to promote and/or protect an organisation’s image or its individual products. Public relations can also be used to promote people, places, ideas, activities and even nations. The purpose of this short course is to provide students with the competence to apply, under supervision, the implementation of elementary public relations, communication and media activities. The aim of this course is to provide a working knowledge of the principles of public relations.

Target group: Public relations managers.

Admission requirements:

Registration periods:
- First semester: 28 November – 25 January
- Second semester: depends on the Unisa second semester registration dates

Short Course in SMME Management (72087)

| Duration: 3 months | Credits: 12 | NQF Level: 5 |

Purpose: To empower students with the necessary competencies, such as knowledge, skills and values, to equip them for entrepreneurial and management responsibilities in a small business; show them how to apply marketing concepts and principles relating to product, pricing, promotion and distribution strategies in the business; show them how to manage the operations of the business ethically, efficiently and effectively with regard to human resources management and production and operations management; and show them how to manage the finances and assets and evaluate the financial performance of a small business.

Target group:
- existing small business owners with fewer than 50 employees who would like to enhance their management skills in preparation for business growth
- potential entrepreneurs who intend to start a business and who need the skills to manage their small business effectively

Admission requirements: Senior Certificate or an equivalent NQF level 4 qualification.

Registration periods:
First semester: 28 November – 25 January

Short Course in Writing a Business Plan (7179X)

| Duration: 3 months | Credits: 12 | NQF Level: 5 |

Purpose: The rise in unemployment and the number of retrenched employees and an increased entrepreneurial spirit among the youth have resulted in more people needing to start their own businesses. To start a business or expand an existing one, an entrepreneur needs finance. All financial institutions or venture capitalists insist on a proper business plan. The aim of the course is to provide entrepreneurs with the necessary skills and knowledge to write a business plan for a small and medium-sized venture, introducing them to the various components of a business plan and the level and extent of the information that should be included in each component.

Target group:
- people who wish to start a new business or buy an existing venture
- people who plan to expand an existing venture
- people who need a management tool to grow and steer an existing venture and to keep it on course
- people who need to obtain financing for a new venture or to expand an existing venture
- people who wish to write up their venture in order to qualify for a large contract or a tender

Admission requirements: Senior Certificate or an equivalent NQF level 4 qualification and/or relevant experience.

Registration periods:
First semester: 28 November – 25 January
Second semester: depends on the Unisa second semester registration dates
For more information please visit www.unisa.ac.za/cbm

Course in Basics of Total Quality Management (71811)

Duration: 6 months (1 semester)
Credits: 24
NQF Level: 5

Purpose: Total quality management or TQM is a widely popular and recognised managerial philosophy aimed primarily at the improvement of all aspects related to the operational performance of the business or other organisations. It focuses on meeting the needs and expectations of customers/clients by moving the emphasis for quality to other functional areas as well – that is, away from the sole focus of the production/operations function into a major concern for the whole organisation. TQM is a holistic approach to quality. The philosophy is to equip employees from all types of businesses with the basic body of knowledge of TQM and introduce them to some of the soft components and methods and techniques for the improvement of quality and overall operational performance.

Target group: Any employee in a business or institution or organisation who may be involved or interested in quality management (TQM); similarly all people (e.g. supervisors) who may be responsible for planning, controlling or improving quality (e.g. aspirant quality assurance managers, junior quality managers, assistant quality managers, operations managers, project planners, project controllers, but even senior managers who need to gain a basic understanding of and appreciation for the dynamic nature, unique body of knowledge and potential advantages which may be gained by TQM).

Admission requirements:
Candidates who do not hold a National Senior Certificate may be admitted on the basis of an equivalent qualification or appropriate work experience, specifically with regard to project-type or related work.

Course in Social Media Marketing (76710)

Duration: 6 months (1 semester)
Credits: 36
NQF Level: 6

Purpose: Social media marketing (or social network marketing) is taking the business world by storm. In conjunction with e-marketing, social media marketing provides large and small businesses with a new channel to reach out to a huge market of well over a billion users, at affordable prices. Social media marketing has the added advantage of leveraging value from the social and personal “conversations” that are already taking place among a business’s customers, using social networks such as Facebook, Twitter, LinkedIn, blogs, YouTube, etc. Because customers place considerable value on the opinions and advice of family members, friends and colleagues, these social media conversations and channels have a significant impact on the views of customers who participate in these conversations. To put it bluntly - social media marketing works, as recent global events have shown.

The purpose of this social media marketing course is to introduce students to the world of social networks and how they work, from a marketing perspective in particular. They will be taught how to listen, initiate and shape these conversations to the advantage of their business. With the knowledge they gain from this three-module six-month course, students will be able to apply this knowledge in their own business or even help other businesses with their social media efforts. This course is aimed at, among other things, the following:

Target group: All existing and future marketing practitioners, as well as web, e-commerce, e-marketing and social media specialists fall within the target group of this course. Indeed, any person who is interested in using social media services as a marketing channel would benefit from this offering. Students are expected to come from both the SMME and big business environments, as well as from entrepreneurial entities, academia, NGOs and government departments that wish to take advantage of the social media world.

Registration periods:
First semester: 28 November – 25 January
Second semester: depends on the Unisa second semester registration dates

IISA Introductory Programme in Advanced Insurance Practice (7649X)

Duration: 6 months
Credits: 60
NQF Level: 7

Purpose: These programmes represent an advanced qualification for insurance staff working across all sectors of the insurance industry, planning to ultimately gain a professional qualification. This SLP will enhance students’ understanding of insurance practice, both in terms of technical subject matter and overall management skills, often irrespective of the role of the person.

This SLP was specifically developed by Unisa and the Insurance Institute of South Africa (IISA) to serve the advanced educational needs of the insurance industry in South Africa and to provide individuals in this industry with a higher education qualification, to satisfy both educational and regulatory needs.

The programmes provide for development in two spheres, firstly, in the business of insurance, through the two compulsory subjects, and then in the processes and practices of insurance at an advanced technical level in the specific subfield through the elective subjects. In the case of the latter, both the formative (assignments) and summative (examinations) assessments test the students’ ability to apply the knowledge and skills by requiring them to solve problems and analyse and make recommendations using a factual case study as part of the testing.

This SLP is the second part of a specific learning programme for the advanced insurance market. As such, students who have completed this SLP will be academically qualified for election to Associateship of the Insurance Institute of South Africa and the accompanying professional designation, subject to the by-laws from time to time.

Target group: People employed by insurance companies, insurance brokers, loss adjusters or retirement funds. The programme improves the employability of students in the sense that the successful completion of the programme enables them to become professional insurance practitioners with a good understanding of the insurance business, an appreciation for the entire insurance market, as well as some specialised insurance practice fields, insurance broking and reinsurance, and risk management. In addition, all intermediaries in the insurance industry who offer advice on products need to be in possession of suitable academic qualifications and this SLP is in line with part of the advanced requirements.

Admission requirements: IISA Programme in either Short Term Insurance (76546) or Life Insurance (76538) or Retirement Fund Management (76511)

Registration periods:
First semester: 28 November – 25 January
Second semester: depends on the Unisa second semester registration dates

IISA Introductory Programme in Retirement Fund Management (76600)

Duration: 6 months
Credits: 60
NQF Level: 6

Purpose: This SLP was specifically developed by Unisa and the Insurance Institute of South Africa (IISA) to serve the educational needs of the retirement fund management industry in South Africa and to provide individuals in that sector of the insurance industry with a higher education qualification, to satisfy both educational and regulatory needs.

This SLP is the first part of a specific learning programme for the retirement fund management sector. As such, students who have completed this SLP will continue with a further NQF level 5 Programme in Retirement Fund Management in order to complete their studies at this level. The programme will also enhance the knowledge and competence of financial advisors and intermediaries, which is required in terms of the fit and proper requirements of the FAS Act.

Target group: People employed by life insurance companies, insurance brokers, independent (privately administered) retirement funds, fund administrators or elsewhere in the retirement fund industry. Students not presently employed in the retirement fund industry, but who may want to obtain the credits attached to the SLP in order to obtain employment in the insurance industry will also be allowed to enrol.

The programme improves the employability of students in the sense that the successful completion of the programme enables them to become retirement fund practitioners with a good introductory understanding of the legal framework within which retirement funds are conducted, retirement fund administration, benefit design, fund financing and investment practices and instruments.

In addition, all intermediaries in the retail pensions industry who offer advice on products need to be in possession of suitable academic qualifications and this SLP is in line with part of such requirements.

Programme in Advanced Strategic Management (76769)

Duration: 12 months  Credits: 48  NQF Level: 7

Purpose: To equip students with advanced knowledge, skills and attitudes in strategic management, with a specific focus on corporate level strategies in multibusiness corporations. It is an advanced programme in the sense that it focuses on advanced techniques of analysis, decision-making and change management. With two of the four modules focusing on strategy in action, this programme provides an action basis in a field where strategy training traditionally focuses on strategy formulation.

Target group:
- students who have completed the CBM Course in Strategic Management
- students who have completed the CBM SAIM Programme in Business Management (with Strategic Management elective)
- students who have completed the CBM ICSA Programme in Strategic Management and Corporate Governance
- students who have completed other structured training in strategic management (minimum of 24 credits)
- managers with at least five years’ management experience and exposure to strategic management

Admission requirements: A previous qualification or course in Strategic Management at NQF level 6 (such as the Course in Strategic Management offered by the CBM) and five years of suitable business experience are required for enrolment in this programme. Those not in possession of such a qualification will be considered for admission on the basis of alternative admission criteria such as relevant work experience. Students will be required to submit proof of this in the form of a detailed CV and references or other prior learning.

ADDITIONAL REQUIREMENTS: This programme will be offered online and access to a computer with internet and e-mail is a prerequisite. Students need to register as myUnisa users once their registration has been activated.

Registration periods:
First semester: 28 November – 25 January
Second semester: depends on the Unisa second semester registration dates

Programme in Banking (75892)

Duration: 12 months
Credits: 96
NQF Level: 6

Purpose: Changes in the banking environment have made it necessary for banking staff to equip themselves with basic banking skills. The primary purpose of this programme is to promote an understanding of and enable students to apply the basic principles of the operations of the financial system in the domestic economy. This will contribute to the student’s employability as a professional, both in the formal financial services sector and related industries, thereby contributing to the economic and social upskilling of South Africa.

Target group: Banking and related financial services.

Admission requirements: Senior Certificate or an equivalent NQF level 4 qualification plus the Course in Fundamentals of Banking and Risk Management.

Registration periods:
First semester: 28 November – 25 January

Programme in Customer Service (76712)

Duration: 12 months
Credits: 72
NQF Level: 6

Purpose: This programme is useful for students wishing to develop their knowledge, skills and competencies in the application and rendering of customer service in private, institutional, governmental and parastatal organisations. Organisations expect their customer service employees to be able to liaise with customers in different contact situations, such as face-to-face, telephone and written contact. These employees also need to be able to manage a customer service division, by evaluating service activities, developing a service plan and motivating and empowering service personnel. This programme teaches students the skills to successfully manage the customer service function in an organisation.

Target group: Private, institutional, governmental and parastatal organisations.

Admission requirements: National Senior Certificate or three years’ relevant practical experience.

Advanced Programme in Human Resource Management (76748)

Duration: 12 months
Credits: 96
NQF Level: 8

Purpose: To equip students with the necessary knowledge, skills and abilities to manage human resources effectively in organisations. This programme is ideally suited to middle- and top-level human resource practitioners who will be exposed to the more advanced aspects of human resource management.

Target group: Middle- and top-level human resource managers.

Admission requirements: Bachelor’s degree in human resource management or an advanced diploma in human resource management at NQF level 7.

The ideal student should also have worked in a human resource department in a middle or senior management position for five years.

Prospective students who do not have a formal qualification in human resource management at NQF level 7 should provide Unisa with the following information on their previous qualifications:

- a full academic record
- the name(s) of the qualification, and the syllabus and learning outcomes of each module/paper
- a list of the prescribed books used
- an indication of any other study material (e.g. study guides) used
- an indication of the means of assessment (e.g. assignments and examinations, and their format)
- the duration of the programme
- the entry-level requirement
- the NQF level
- SAQA credits attached to the programme and modules/papers
- an indication of whether the institution at which the qualification was obtained is registered as a training provider in terms of the Higher Education Act

The above information is required to adequately assess the relative value of modules/papers offered by other institutions. Prospective students are requested to contact the institution at which the qualification/s was/were completed to obtain the necessary information.

In addition, information on relevant working experience should be included in the form of a CV.
