

UNIVERSITY OF SOUTH AFRICA

UNISA is a publicly funded Higher Education Institution in South Africa dedicated to distance education. In keeping with its mandate as a Comprehensive, Open and Distance Learning (CODeL+) institution offering a variety of academic and career focused programmes, Unisa is inviting applications for the position of Adjunct Academic.

PORTFOLIO: VICE PRINCIPAL TEACHING LEARNING COMMUNITY ENGAGEMENT AND STUDENT SUPPORT

COLLEGE OF HUMAN SCIENCES ALL DEPARTMENTS

POSITION: ADJUNCT ACADEMIC(P9)

(3-YEAR FIXED-TERM CONTRACT)

(REF: 02/AA/CHS/2026)

Unisa is committed to accessibility and inclusivity, ensuring that all staff and students living with disabilities are provided with equitable opportunities, support, and environments that enable their full participation in academic and work life.

Purpose of this position:

To contribute to the university's teaching, learning, and research goals by providing high-quality instruction, assessment, and academic support to students. The incumbent brings professional or academic expertise to enhance the learning experience within a specific discipline or programme.

Key Performance Areas:

Key Performance Area 1: Student Support & Engagement

- Offer academic guidance, consultation, and mentorship to students.
- Employ diverse pedagogical approaches to promote student engagement and understanding.
- Identify and support students with diverse needs who may require additional academic assistance, informed by analytics and engagement data.
- Monitor and respond to student queries timely and effectively.

Key Performance Area 2: Teaching & Facilitation

- Deliver lectures, tutorials, or seminars in accordance with the prescribed curriculum and academic calendar.
- Prepare teaching material, lesson plans, and learning resources aligned to course outcomes.
- Support the teaching of modules in formal qualifications at NQF Levels 5 to 7.
- Contribute to curriculum review and development within the discipline area.
- Assist in aligning teaching materials with institutional and accreditation standards.

- Conduct online classes and tutorials using the institution's Learning Management System (LMS).
- Facilitate asynchronous and synchronous learning sessions in line with the Tuition Facilitation Procedure Manual.
- Promote interactive learning to foster engagement and deep understanding of course content.
- Ensure compliance with the College Quality Assurance Framework and Service Charter.

Key Performance Area 3: Assessment & Feedback

- Mark and grade assessments (assignments, tests, projects, examinations), in accordance with academic standards and rubrics.
- Maintain accurate records of student performance, including marks and progress data.
- Provide timely and constructive feedback to students to enhance learning and performance.
- Participate in moderation and quality assurance processes as required.

Key Performance Area 4: Analytics & Intervention

- Access and interpret student performance reports from the LMS (e.g., myUnisa) and analytics dashboards
- Monitor key indicators such as:
 - Engagement metrics (log-ins, participation in discussion forums, attendance in virtual classes).
 - Performance trends across assignments and exams.
 - Compare data across cohorts to identify common learning barriers or module-specific challenges.
 - Assessment submission patterns (missed or late submissions).
- Use analytics to flag students at risk due to poor engagement or low performance
- Segment students into categories (e.g., "not engaging," "borderline pass," "repeaters," "nonsubmitting")
- Develop targeted academic support plans based on identified needs (e.g., refresher tutorials, concept summaries, Q&A sessions).
- Conduct small-group consultations or follow-up online sessions focusing on difficult concepts or assignments for students at risk.
- Provide scaffolded learning materials — additional exercises, video explainers, or simplified reading guides.
- Send motivational or corrective communications (emails, LMS announcements) encouraging re-engagement and submission.

Key Performance Area 5: Academic Collaboration

- Liaise with the Tuition Support and Facilitation of Learning Department or Instructional Support and Services to coordinate structured interventions.
- Refer students requiring psycho-social or academic counselling to Counselling and Career Development.
- Share feedback and insights with Course Coordinators and Chairs of Department to inform module improvements.

Qualifications and Experience:

- A relevant postgraduate qualification (Master's or preferably Doctoral Degree) in the discipline of instruction.
- Demonstrated expertise or professional experience in the subject area.
- Registration with the relevant professional body (where applicable).
- Prior experience in teaching, tutoring, or academic support in a higher education environment is advantageous
- Familiarity with blended or online learning environments.

Key Attributes

- Student-Centredness
- Professional Integrity
- Adaptability and Flexibility
- Self-Motivation and Initiative
- Technological Confidence
- Communication and Interpersonal Skills
- Analytical and Reflective Thinking
- Emotional Intelligence
- Commitment to Lifelong Learning
- Team Orientation
