

ALUMNI E-NEWS

Mobilising Unisa Alumni - March 2017

Unisa welcomes Thabo Mbeki as Chancellor

Thabo Mbeki was officially inaugurated as the university's newly-appointed Chancellor on Monday 27 February 2017. In his maiden address as Chancellor he said that African universities have a special responsibility to produce the ideas and knowledge, cadres, and activists who will drive the continent's rebirth.

Read more >

Convocation ensures your voice is heard

Under the new leadership of Sabelo Mhlungu, the Unisa Convocation will continue to stand up for the interests of its convocants. Read more

Donating to the university from beyond our borders

Gero Wassweiler lives near Frankfurt in Germany and was the 10th person to use the Unisa online donation system. Read more

- > A distinguished award for a distinguished scholar. Read more.
- > Unisa's Prof Sabelo J Ndlovu-Gatsheni recognised by respected French newspaper Le Monde. Read more.
- > Unisa staff member lauded for research on SA acid mine drainage. Read more.

Alumni on the move

Prof Colin Coulson-Thomas appointed honorary professor at Aston University

His influence spans both business and academia and now he

Unisa alumnus reaches the finals of Miss South Africa 2017

It's that time of the year when the Miss South Africa Pageant is has been awarded an honorary professorship of Aston University in England. A prolific author of more than 70 books and reports, the professor is also the chairman of various award-winning companies. Read more. building its momentum. A bevy of beauties, 12 to be precise, will be vying for the prestigious crown come Sunday 26 March 2017. Unisa alumnus, Yuta Raubenheimer, is amongst the beauties. Read more.

Alumni Association

Help the university meet its social and educational responsibilities by joining the Alumni Association.

Click here

ABSA Affinity card

Absa will contribute a percentage of the transactions made on the Absa Affinity card to the Unisa Alumni Fund.

Click here

Update your details

You are encouraged to update your contact details to ensure that you are informed of the latest developments at Unisa.

Click here

Contact us | Submit your comments and stories

CONNECT WITH US

