Data Analysis Plan

The aim of the workshop is to assist researchers to create a well-defined data analysis plan to guide data analysis from the first stages of summarising and describing the data through to hypothesis testing.

Outline

- The significance of planning and preparing for data analysis
- Identification of variables to be measured and used in the main analysis
- Inclusion and exclusion criterion
- Data set(s) to be used
- Scales of measurement
- Choosing the right summary measures
- Identification of the relevant statistical tests
