

COLLEGE OF GRADUATE STUDIES

School of Interdisciplinary Research & Graduate Studies (SIRGS)

7th Indigenous Epistemologies Seminar Series

Still in Our HandsIndigenous Knowledge Systems Against Poverty and Inequality

The College of Graduate Studies, through the School of Interdisciplinary Research and Graduate Studies, invites scholars, researchers, postgraduate students, practitioners and Indigenous knowledge-holders to the 2026 Indigenous Epistemologies Seminar, themed “Still in Our Hands: Indigenous Knowledge Systems Against Poverty and Inequality.” The seminar will explore how Indigenous knowledge systems can contribute to addressing poverty, inequality and inequity, while advancing epistemic justice, community partnerships and sustainable development. Join us from 29 September to 1 October 2026 for meaningful dialogue and knowledge-sharing in a hybrid format, with participation available both in person and online.

DATE: 29 September to 1 October 2026
TIME: 08:00 - 16:00
VENUE: Function Hall, 4th Floor, Kgorong Building, Muckleneuk Campus, UNISA
REGISTRATION: CGS Indigenous Epistemologies Seminar Series 2026 OR
Fill out form - www.tinyurl.com/iessreg26

For more information contact:
showcase@unisa.ac.za